Scout Leader Guilty Of Sex Acts With Boys

BLOUNTVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The scoutmaster of a Boy Scout troop was found guilty Tuesday of committing homosexual acts with six boys during an overnight campout last summer.

The verdict was returned against Jacob M. Bethany, 36, of Kingsport, shortly after a two-day trial in which the six youths testified that Bethany performed various sex acts with them. The defense rested its case without calling a single witness.

The jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated only 45 minutes before returning the verdict on six charges of performing acts against nature.

Bethany, a water works employee, was sentenced to 30 to 45 years in prison by Criminal Court Judge Edgar Calhoun.

The sentence represents consecutive terms of 10 to 15 years on three of the six charges and concurrent terms of the same length on the other three counts.

Calhoun gave Bethany's court-appointed attorney 30 days to file an appeal. The judge raised Bethany's bond from $15,000 to $40,000.

The six boys, ages 9 to 14, testified Monday and Tuesday they all allowed Bethany to have sexual relations with them during an outing July 30 at Warrior Path State Park near Kingsport. Testimony in the trial indicated no force was involved.

A seventh boy, who is 8 years old, also was on the camping trip. He said Bethany asked to perform sex with him but he refused.

Bethany was scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 252, sponsored by the Fall Branch Methodist Church at Sullivan Gardens near Kingsport.

Prosecutors said only one of the seven youths on the outing had been initiated as a Boy Scout, but five of the boys regularly attended Scout meetings.
